

On Saturday, June 16, 2012, at approximately 1310 hours, while working as an undercover Loss Prevention Supervisor at the Gap in Hollywood located at 6801 Hollywood Blvd. Hollywood, CA 90028, I, along with Senior Loss Prevention Agent, Deborah Burns, made the following observations and arrest.

On the above date and time, I observed S1 later identified as Dominic Rodriguez through Closed Circuit Television (CCTV), enter the gap store through the main adult entrance with an unknown male and head toward the Men's department. S1 was wearing a short sleeve blue and white plaid shirt, a black baseball hat and jeans. I continued observation because S1 appeared to be feeling for sensors on the green "Rolling Rock" graphic T-shirt stack. S1 then selected 2 blue short sleeve button up shirts, 2 green "Rolling Rock" graphic T-shirts and 2 pairs of dark wash denim jeans and headed toward the fitting rooms in the back of the store and entered fitting room #2. S1 then exited fitting room #2 with 2 pairs of denim, 1 blue button up shirt and 2 green "Rolling Rock" graphic t-shirts and handed 1 graphic T to the fitting room attendant. S1 then placed one button up shirt with 2 hangers onto the shirt display and made his way to the front of the store. S1 then concealed the remaining "Rolling Rock" T-shirt into the left inner sleeve of his blue and white plaid shirt and made his way towards the exit. S1 passed by several open and operating registers, but never offer any payment for the unpaid merchandise that was in his possession. At this point, I made my way towards the exit as Agent Burns continued observation via CCTV.

At approximately, 1325 hours, I made contact with S1, at the threshold of the store, identified myself verbally as Gap Loss Prevention and explained to S1 that I needed to talk to him regarding the T-shirt that he concealed in his left sleeve. S1 then said, "Can I just give you back the shirt?" At this point, I explained to S1 that I needed him to come back to the store to fill out paperwork as agent Burns witnessed. S1 then attempted to run around me as I held onto his shirt. S1 then punched me twice as agent Burns and the unknown male were telling him to stop. The unknown male instructed S1 to "relax, just chill out." S1 then ran westbound on Hollywood Blvd. At this point I contacted BID Patrol (Business Improvement District) and explained the situation and handed the phone to agent burns. BID Patrol then made contact with S1 and S1 began to run from them as well. BID Patrol then caught S1, recovered the additional blue short sleeved button up shirt from his waist band and kept him in custody until S1 was released to LAPD (Los Angeles Police Department).
